CAMBRIDGE CENTRES IN THE UK – updated August 2024

- This is a summary of Cambridge Centres in the UK. If none below are accessible to you, please let me know rishi.handa@stjamesschools.co.uk and I will try to find you somewhere else.
- Please give serious consideration to entering for the examination. Every person showing interest makes a difference to the continuance of Sanskrit as an official international exam.
- Your examination result is confidential.
- Main details: Sanskrit syllabus code: 0499; there is one examination consisting of 2 compulsory question papers. When dates are available they will be posted on this page: https://www.sanskritexams.org.uk/igcse-exam-information/
- Schools (and certainly St James) usually reserve a separate exam room for external/private candidates.
- It is helpful if you enter as soon as possible to give Centres plenty of time for administrative work. Last entry date is usually January 31st. Later entries incur excess fees.
